

The Gulf Call to Sacred Action

Prayer Offered by Reverend Michael Bernard Beckwith

July 6, 2010

We will become aware in this moment as each of us stops for a moment and turns within in this moment. We will be aware that we represent oneness, we represent the one mind, the one power, the one presence, the one life that is everywhere in fullness and we allow ourselves to lift ourselves in a field of gratitude and thanksgiving, being grateful that we are the manifestation of existence itself -- the manifestation of a love, an intelligence, a beauty, a wisdom, a harmony, a compassionate order, a spiritual power and that in this instant we feel our soulful connection with this dynamic presence by whatever name we choose to call it -- life, love, joy, God, the great God of the universe.

By whatever name we choose to call it, we call it forth now as the activity of our awareness and we know that the very word that is being spoken in this instant is a law unto itself that only knows its own fulfillment. It does not know any obstacles, it does not know any resistance, and it does not know any hindrances. It only knows its own fulfillment. Just as a seed only knows its own unfoldment from a creative template, this word only knows its own unfoldment.

I speak with the authority of one knowing that all that there is is God. And I speak the word for each and every individual that is with us knowing that we are galvanized into an awareness of a living, loving intelligence that leads, guides and directs us into the path of righteousness and into divine and compelling right action where the unfoldment and the evolution of our species and our planet is concerned.

We place special attention now to the region of the Gulf and all of the other areas that have been affected by this particular event and we call forth healing and wholeness and right action. We know there is a divine spiritual idea that is seeking to manifest right here and right now where this is concerned and we call it forth. It might be beyond our imagination and the present paradigm we're living in, but it's real, it's here, it's now and I am feeling my way into it now and speaking it into expression, knowing that there is nothing that can block, delay, hinder or obstruct it.

Right action is now showing up. Guidance is now showing up and wholeness and healing is now the order of the day for our planet and the species affected, for the individuals affected by this event, fishermen and others who are adversely affected by this. We call forth the harmonizing principle of the universe to make itself known in the midst of this. We feel it occurring right now and we accept from this moment on all things continue to work together for our individual and our collective good.

I feel it in my bones, I feel it in my heart and I give thanks that it so and I let it be now and until forever more.

AND SO IT IS.
